BUILDING 101

The image shows a long, low-rise building with a repetitive facade of rectangular windows and doors. A large, open courtyard or plaza is visible in front of the building. The rendering is in a high-contrast, black and white style. The building's facade is composed of a series of rectangular units, each with a window and a door. The courtyard is a large, open space in front of the building. The overall style is architectural and minimalist.
